Article in Times of India

Focus on skill sets in education which is making getting jobs difficult for the graduates

Even if the graduates have the required academic qualifications, they fail to get the job offered in the job they have learned because of lack of required skills and competencies. Employers are looking out for graduates who are 'job ready' and can start right from the beginning.

What are the skill sets?
How to improve competencies?
What are the job opportunities?

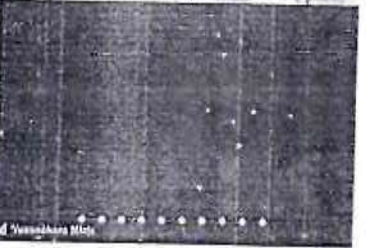

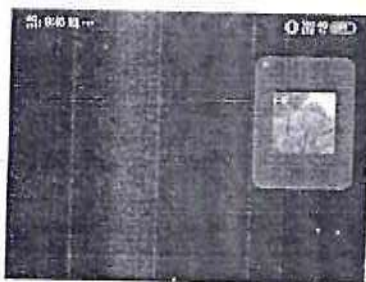

Our College is arranging a online course on Job opportunities in the market and skills required to get these jobs
